EIGHTH ANNUAL SPECTACLE BY "THE" SPEEDWAY

THE HOMAGE SPEECH

Traditional Preamble to "Taps" read by P.A. announcers Jim Phillippe (deceased)/Dave Calabro:

"On this memorial day weekend,
we pause here, in a moment of silence to pay homage
to those individuals, who have given their lives unselfishly, and unafraid to make it possible for us, as free men and women, to enjoy the world's greatest sporting event. We also pay homage to those individuals, who have given their lives, unselfishly, and unafraid, to make racing the world's most spectacular spectator sport."

93rd Indianapolis 500 Field Notes

- Closest Field in History - The 33-car starting lineup is the closest-matched by time in the history of the Indianapolis 500. Just 3.0967 seconds separate the four-lap qualifying times of polesitter Helio Castroneves and 33rd starter Ryan Hunter-Reay.
- Twenty-eight drivers entered in the event have competed in previous Indy 500s. Thirteen of those drivers have led laps: Dan Wheldon (234), Tony Kanaan (214), Helio Castroneves (162), Tomas Scheckter (148), Scott Dixon (147), Dario Franchitti (50), Marco Andretti (30), Danica Patrick (10), Vitor Meira (15), Ed Carpenter (3), Davey Hamilton (3), Mario Moraes (3) and Scott Sharp (3).
- Tony Kanaan has led laps in a record seven consecutive Indianapolis 500s. If he leads laps this year, he will tie Tom Sneva, Arie Luyendyk and Al Unser Jr. at eighth all-time for number of "500s" led.
- The pole sitter has won 19 Indianapolis 500s, more than any other starting position. The pole sitter has won three of the last five "500s."
- The average starting position for the driver who has gone on to win Indianapolis 500 Chase Rookie of the Year honors is 13.5. The best start was by Tony Stewart, who won the pole in 1996. The worst start was by Phil Giebler, who started 33rd in 2007. This year, Raphael Matos is the highest-starting rookie at 12th.
